

Networks of Irrigation Channels Carry most of the NAs for the Willamette and Yakima River Basins

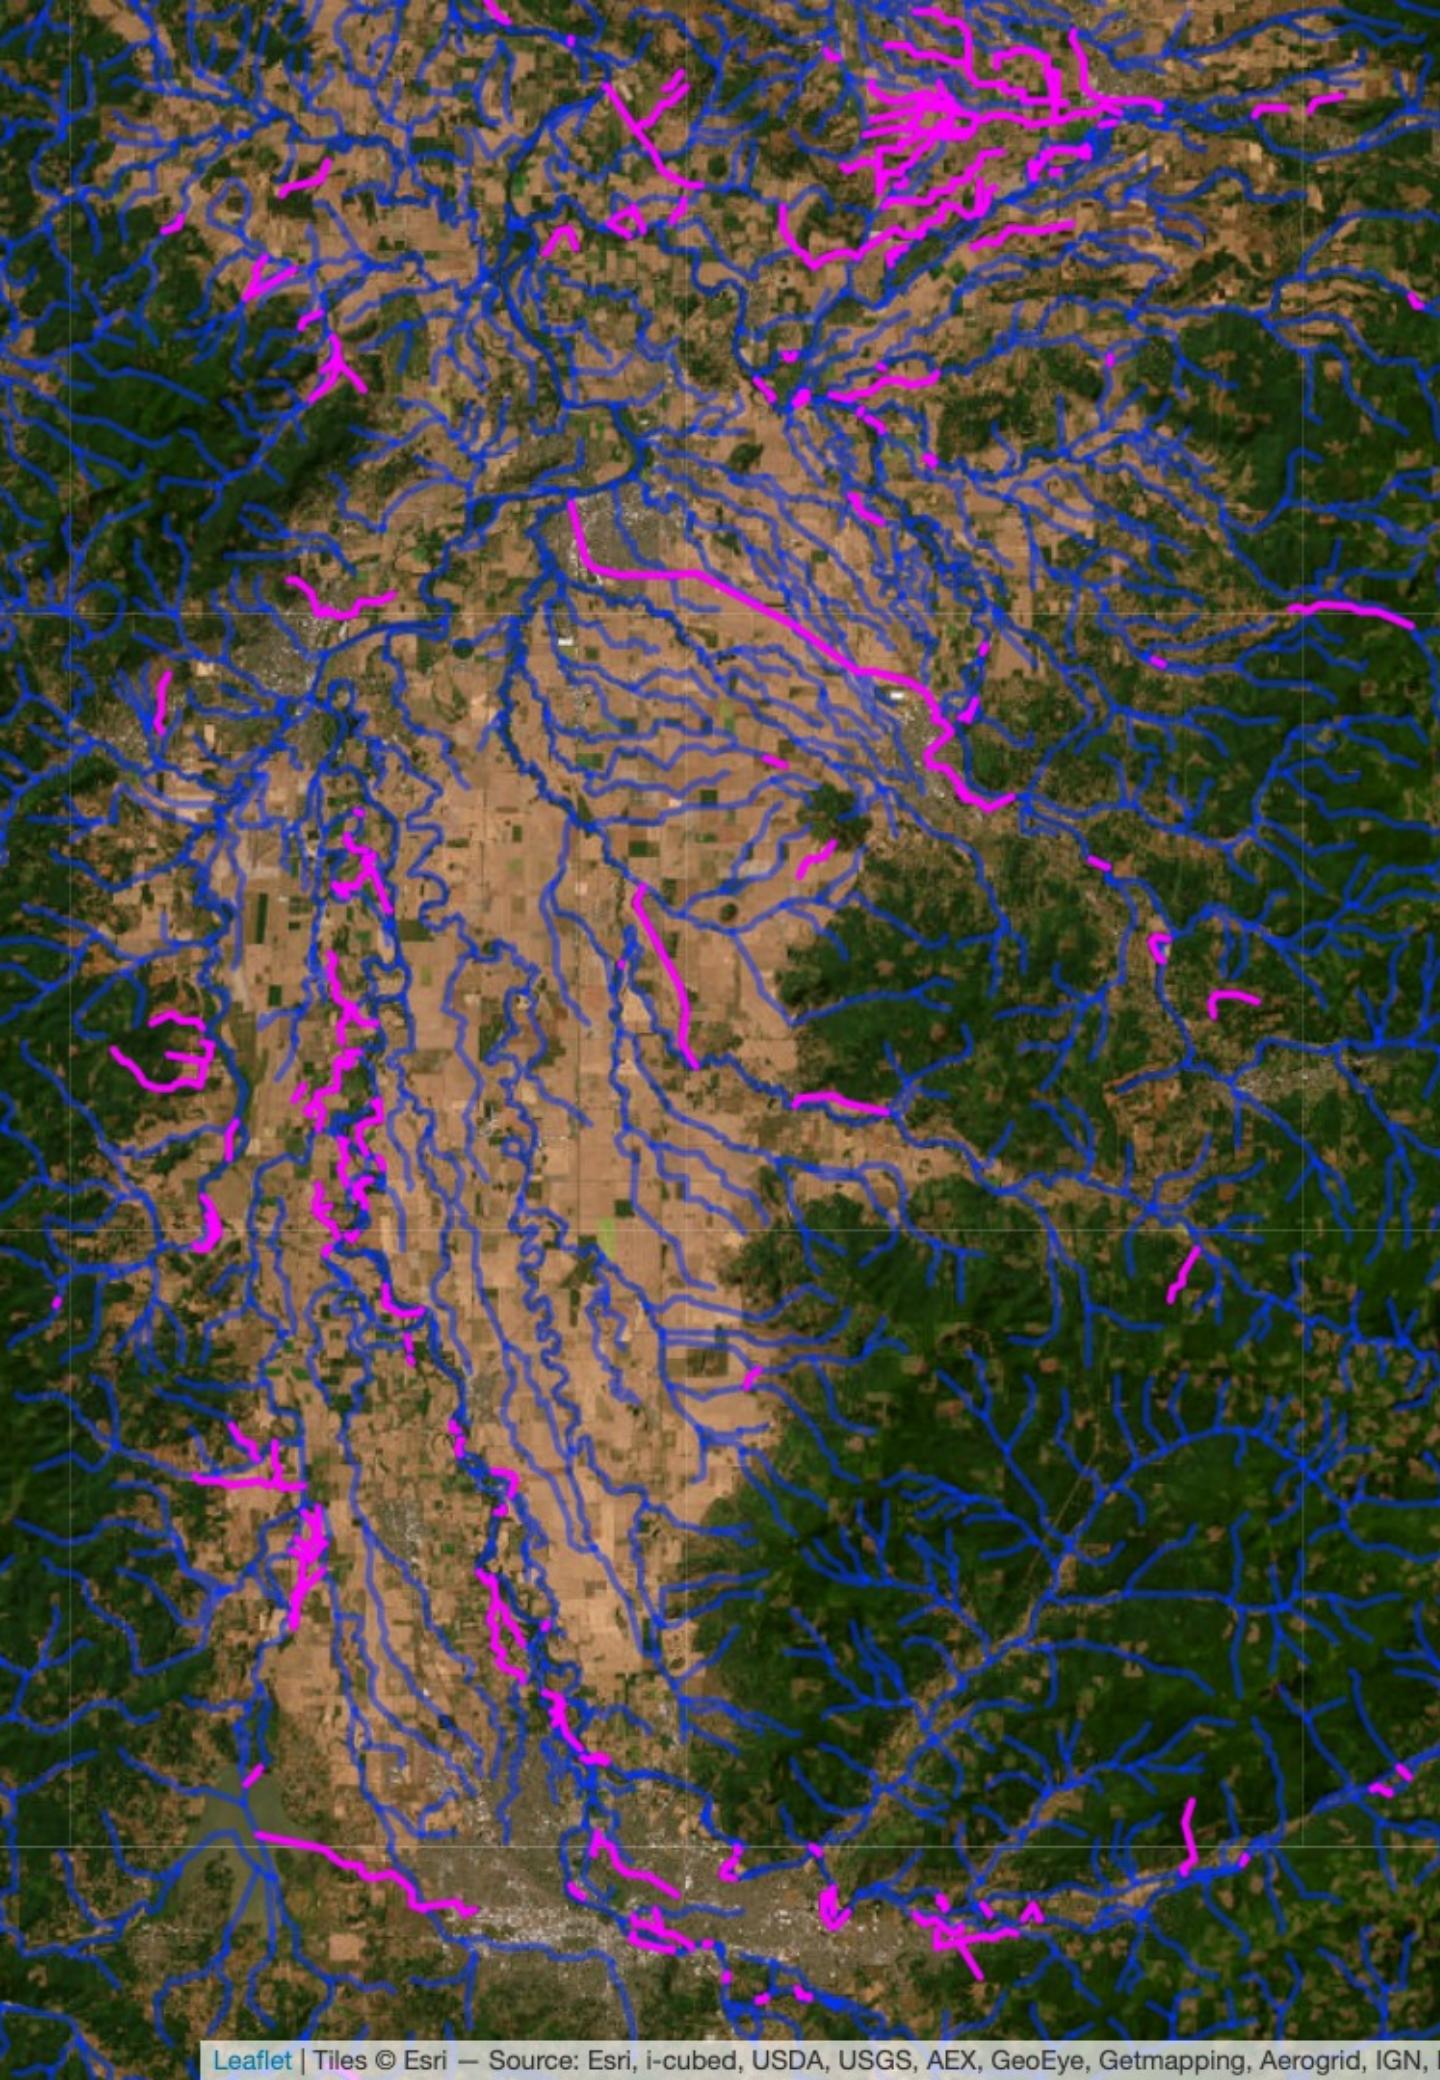

Exploratory data analysis

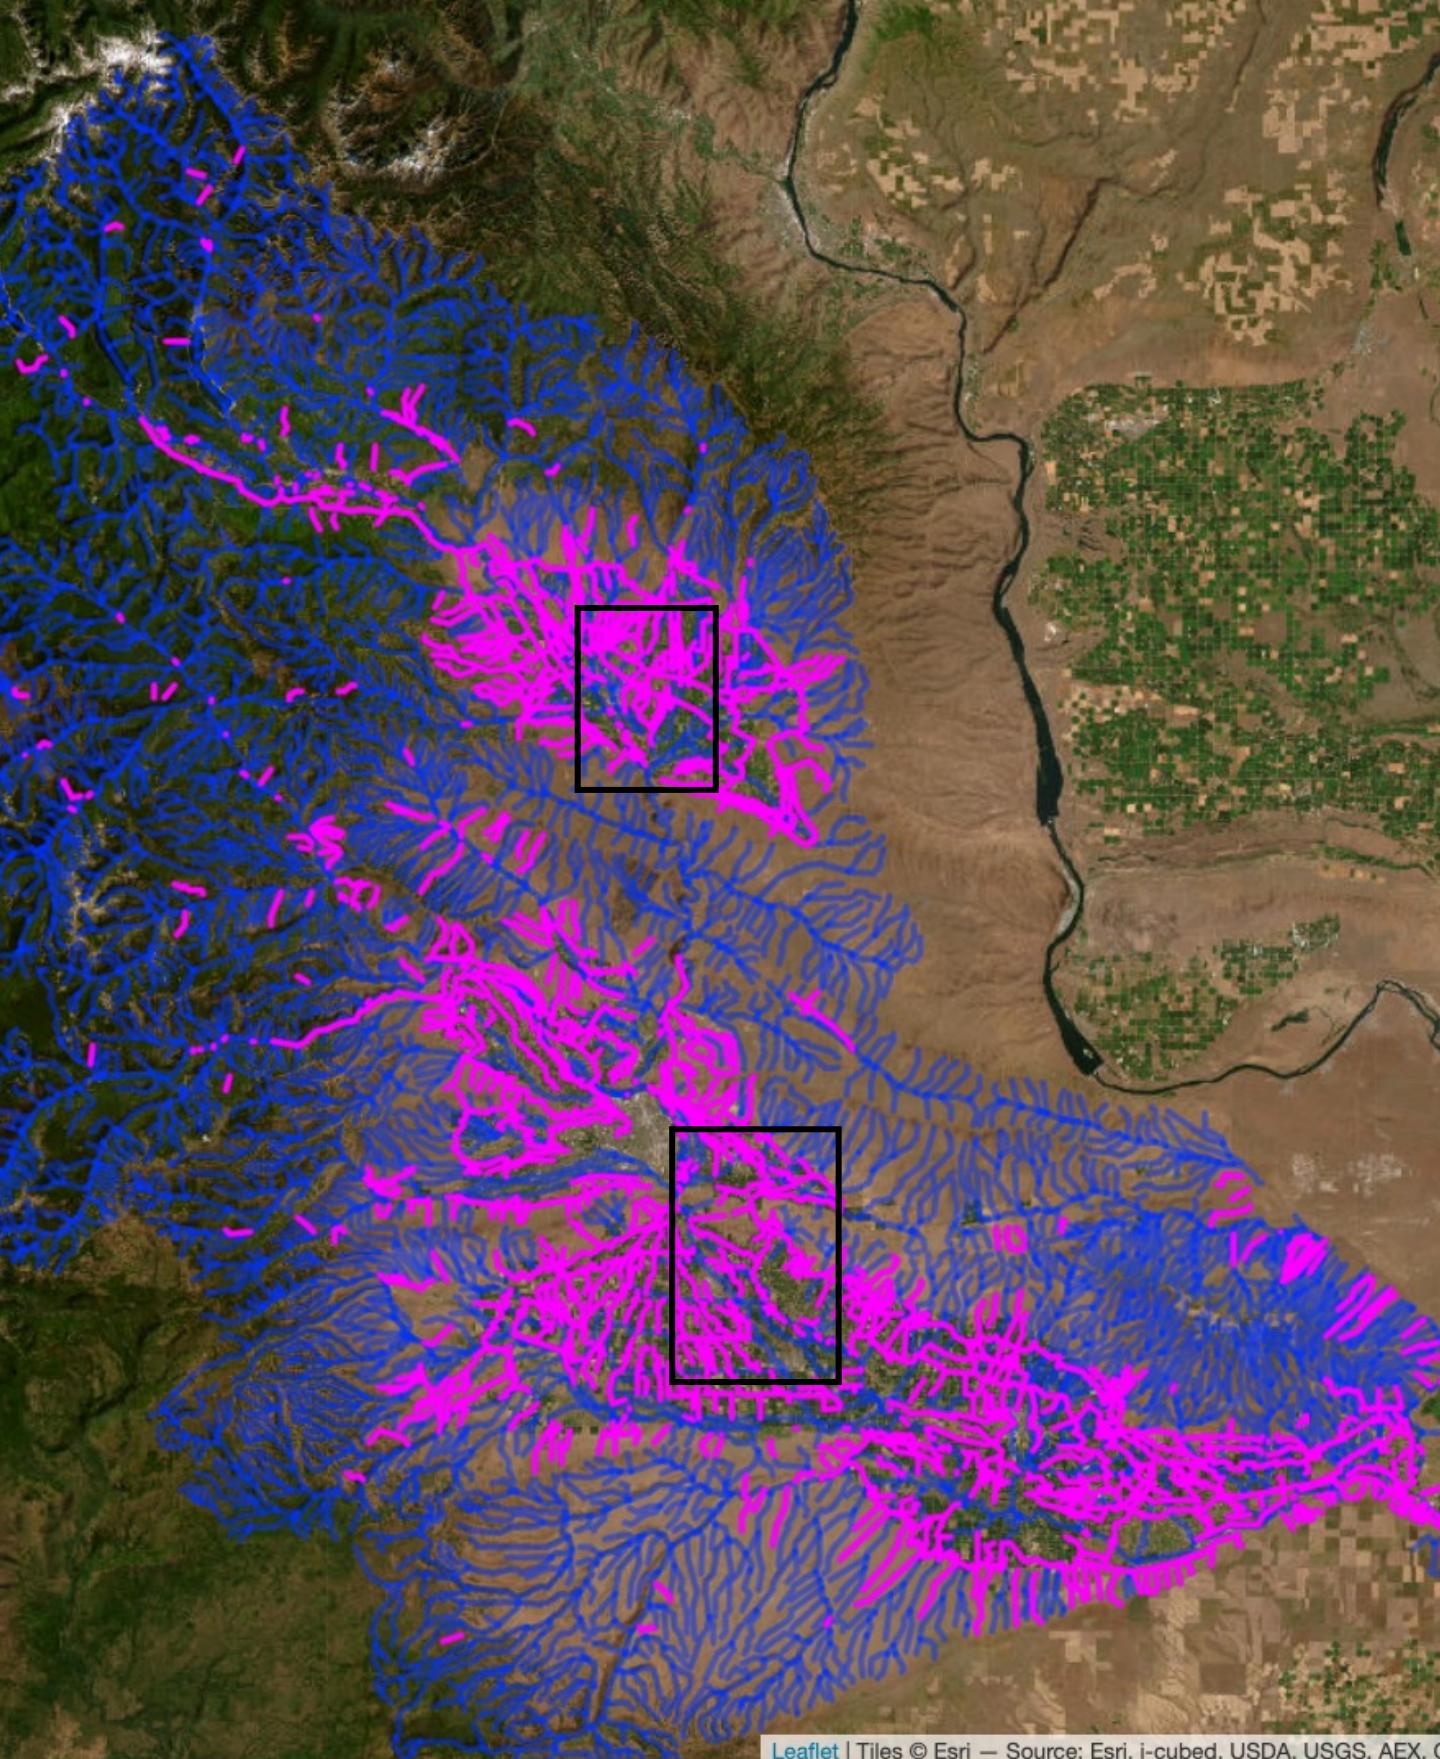

Guerrero et al Scaling Watershed Function PNW

I took a closer look at the locations of the flowlines with NA values across most attributes (e.g., watershed area, slope, etc, land use)

The distribution of these flowlines is not random and covers a larger proportion of the network in the Yakima River Basin than in the Willamette River Basin
